Love & Respect: The Love She Most Desires & The Respect He Desperately Needs

The three themes of the night:

- The Crazy Cycle
- The Energizing Cycle
- The Rewarded Cycle

Come to find out what common cycles occur in relationships and how to avoid the Crazy Cycle. Go home with tools that equip you to better manage relationship cycles.

Melissa Guarino is passionate about family life being the foundation of society. If we desire to change the world, we must first focus on the family, which begins with the couple. By looking at couple patterns, Melissa helps increase couple awareness and facilitate positive change.

Melissa's Catholic faith leads her to utilize prayer, biblical principles, Theology of the Body, and the client's relationship with God in therapy.

Melissa will graduate in June 2017 with a M.S. in Marriage and Family Therapy from Nova Southeastern and has a B.A. in Psychology from The University of Tampa.

Past clinical experience includes the Brief Therapy Institute with a focus on couples, co-parenting, and families. Melissa is now working at the Broward Outreach Center serving those experiencing homelessness. Treatments include therapy focused on mental illness, substance abuse, trauma, anger management, and undesired patterns of thought and behavior.

Melissa was selected to attend the national Given Conference. This event is a part of her project to bring back and share her specific gifts and talents with the Archdiocese of Miami.
